Membrane Protein Folding SEOUL, SOUTH KOREA | MAY 19-22, 2013

For more information, visit www.biophysics.org/2013Korea

This meeting, co-sponsored by the Biophysical Society and the Korea Institute for Advanced Study (KIAS), will focus on fundamental aspects of how membrane proteins fold ranging from physical chemistry (in vitro and in silico) to aspects of folding in the cell. In addition, the meeting will feature practical implications of protein folding such as protein design, stabilization, and misfolding in disease.

ORGANIZERS

James Bowie, University of California, Los Angeles Karen Fleming, Johns Hopkins University Jooyoung Lee, KIAS Sanguk Kim, POSTECH

SPEAKERS

Toby Allen, University of California, Davis, USA and RMIT University, Australia Patrick Barth, Baylor University, USA Pil Seok Chae, Hanyang University, South Korea Linda Columbus, University of Virginia, USA Ron Dror, D. E. Shaw Research, USA Donald Engelman, Yale University, USA Heedeok Hong, University of California, Los Angeles, USA Gerard Huysmans, Pasteur Institute, France Wonpil Im, University of Kansas, USA Koreaki Ito, Kyoto Sangyo University, Japan Joy Kim, Seoul National University, South Korea Sanguk Kim, POSTECH, South Korea Brian Krantz, University of California, Berkeley, USA Andreas Kuhn, University of Stuttgart, Germany Jennifer Lee, National Heart Lung and Blood Institute, USA Weontae Lee, Yonsei University, South Korea Jie Liang, University of Illinois, USA Katsumi Matsuzaki, Kyoto University, Japan Chiwook Park, Purdue University, USA Andreas Pluckthun, Swiss Federal Institute of Technology, Zurich Jean-Luc Popot, IBPC, France Janice Robertson, Brandeis University, USA Charles Sanders, Vanderbilt University, USA Mark Sansom, University of Oxford, UK Takeshi Sato, Osaka University, Japan

William Skach, Oregon Health Sciences University, USA

Jakob Ulmschneider, Shanghai Jiao Tong University, China

Stephen White, University of California, Irvine, USA Myunggi Yi, Pukyong National University, South Korea

Yuji Sugita, RIKEN, Japan

Shoji Takada, Kyoto University, Japan

Yinan Wei, University of Kentucky, USA

Tae-Young Yoon, KAIST, South Korea

Peter Tieleman, University of Calgary, Canada

IMPORTANT DEADLINES

Abstract Submission	January 13, 2013
Early Registration	February 19, 2013

REGISTRATION

Early Rates		Regular Rates
(On or before February 19,	2013) (After F	ebruary 19, 2013)
BPS Member*	375	$475
Non-Member	575	$675
Student Member* $	175	$250
Student Non-member $	200	$275
Guest	150	$150

^{*}You must be a current 2013 member to receive discounted rate.